THE MORAL SUICIDE.

How naturally we shudder when we hear that a fellow-man has lifted his hand against his own life, and rushed, as it were, unbidden into the presence of his Maker! Yet, alas! how many thousands of those who thus shudder are themselves guilty of moral self-murder, and destroy themselves—their souls—forever! This was God's charge against his ancient Israel, "O Israel, thou hast destroyed thyself." Hosea xiii, 9. This will be, nay is, his charge against every sinner, unless he has embraced his offers of eternal life through Christ.

There is, unhappily, amongst men a disposition to ascribe their spiritual condition to others rather than themselves; to look at the position and circumstances in which they have been placed as the cause of their transgressions; and to encourage a false hope that these will furnish something of an apology for them, when they shall be called to "answer for the deeds done in the body." This may not improbably be the case with the reader: if so, be persuaded to give serious attention to the solemn fact, that as a sinner knowingly living in sin, and in disobedience to the gospel of Christ, and therefore inevitably exposed to the just anger of God, you are, if you continue so, the willful destroyer of your own soul; and of you it will be justly said, Sinner, thou hast destroyed thyself.

But there is something in the nature of religion itself, you say, that prevents your salvation: you cannot understand it. Now let us see how far this holds good. There are truths assuredly "hard to be understood," but the down to worship before the feet of the angel which showed me these things.

6 Then saith he unto me, [r]See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 [s]And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: [t]for the time is at hand.

11 [u]He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 [x]And behold, I come quickly; and [y]my reward is with me, [z]to give every man according as his work shall be.

13 [a]I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 [b]Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right [c]to the tree of life, [d]and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 For [e]without are [f]dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 [g]I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. [h]I am the root and the offspring of David, and [i]the bright and morning-star.

17 And the Spirit and [k]the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. [l]And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, [m]If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, [n]God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of [o]the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things saith, [p]Surely I come quickly: [q]Amen. [r]Even so, come, Lord Jesus.

21 [s]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.
